Mom, thank you for all you taught me.

Lessons like...

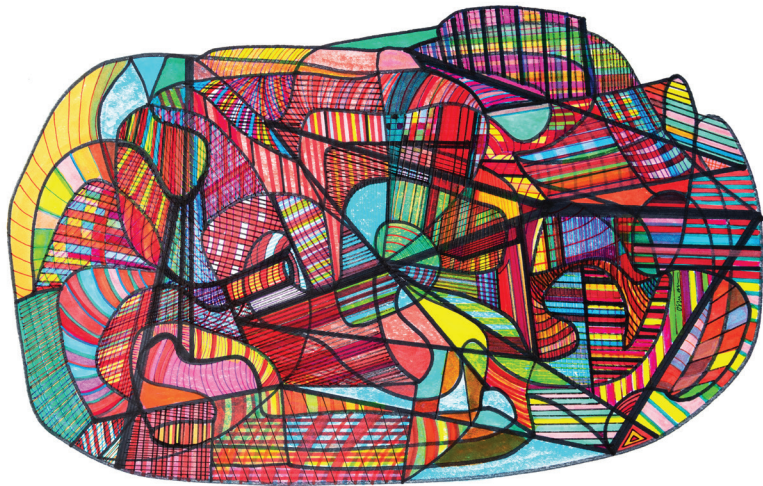

Say please and thank you.

Speak your mind

but not when your mouth is full.

Know your own limits

but never underestimate what you can accomplish.

Get some fresh air and sunshine every day.

Count your many blessings.

Uniquely Mom

Mom is a one-of-a-kind collection of stories, talents, and little mysteries—and you wouldn't change a single thing.

1. What are some of Mom's funniest or most unique traits?

2. Which of Mom's talents or qualities do you wish you had?

The Family Lexicon

Every family has sayings and inside jokes only it understands. Moms don't necessarily create them. But they are key to keeping this language alive.

1. Name some family nicknames that have stuck.

2. What are some special words or phrases that only you or your family use for certain objects or places?

The Heart of It All

1. Looking back, what ordinary or extraordinary things did Mom do that showed how much she loved you?
